WRITE UP

As an award winning South African actress, Marisa Drummond has been at the forefront of the local film and television scene for years. She has always been a storyteller, but it wasn't until recently that she started branching out into the field of directing. It started with a short film for kykNET, quickly followed by a 3 year directing stint at popular telenovella Getroud met Rugby. From there-on it's been all systems go as she's moved seamlessly back and forth between acting and directing. One of last year's highlights includes directing three made for television films produced for kykNET.
